FISCAL YEAR SUMMARY REPORT
OF POPULATION MOVEMENT - 1990

This publication is designed to provide the reader with summary information about the volume and movements of offenders under the jurisdiction of the Department of Corrections during fiscal year 1990 and is a compilation of data originally published in the monthly Statistical Bulletin C-59, Report of Wisconsin Corrections Population. The Department of Corrections, with responsibility for the operation of correctional institutions for adult offenders and for the supervision of offenders on probation and parole in the community, was organized on January 1, 1990. At that time the Division of Youth Services, a unit of the Department of Health and Social Services, assumed responsibilities for the operation of state correctional institutions for juvenile offenders. Information about juveniles confined in these facilities during the fiscal year has been excluded from this publication.

Tables included in this publication are:

Table 1 Admissions To and Separations From Facilities for Adult Offenders
Table 2 Probation and Parole Services - Active Cases
Table 3 Probation and Parole Services - Absconder Cases

HIGHLIGHTS - ADULT INSTITUTION POPULATION

- On June 30, 1990 a total of 6,717 offenders were confined in correctional facilities for adult offenders; an increase of 7.8 percent over the 6,232 offenders reported on July 1, 1989.

  (See Table 1)

- The adult male correctional institution population increased 7.4 percent from 5,965 at the start to 6,408 at the end of fiscal year 1990. During the same time period, adult female population rose from 267 to 309, an increase of 15.7 percent.

  (See Table 1)

- The average daily population of institutionalized offenders rose steadily from 5,089 in fiscal year 1986 to 6,425 in fiscal year 1990; an increase of 26.3 percent during the five-year period. These figures exclude the Wisconsin Resource Center, a facility operated by the Division of Care and Treatment Facilities, Department of Health and Social Services.

  (See Table A)

HIGHLIGHTS - COMMUNITY SUPERVISION POPULATIONS

- The number of community supervision cases; i.e., those supervised in the community under the conditions of probation and parole, increased 16.1 percent from 28,388 at the beginning to 32,964 at the end of fiscal year 1990.

  (See Table 2)

- During fiscal year 1990 the number of community services cases on absconder status dropped from 4,414 to 4,004, a decrease of 9.3 percent.

  (See Table 3)

- During fiscal year 1986 an average daily population of 24,096 offenders was under community supervision. This average, which has risen steadily, reached 30,124 in fiscal year 1990; an increase of 25.0 percent during the five-year period.

  (See Table A)

- The average daily population of offenders under probation supervision rose from 20,530 in fiscal year 1986 to 25,907 in fiscal year 1990; an increase of 26.2 percent.

  (See Table A)

- Parole supervision average daily population increased 18.3 percent from 3,566 in fiscal year 1986 to 4,217 in fiscal year 1990.

  (See Table A)

- Adult parole supervision average daily population rose 18.1 percent from 3,199 in 1986 to 3,779 in 1990.

  (See Table A)

- The largest increase in adult parole supervision during the five-year period (9.3 percent) occurred between fiscal years 1989 and 1990 when the average daily population rose from 3,457 to 3,779.

  (See Table A)

- Juvenile aftercare average daily population rose 8.0 percent from 163 in fiscal year 1989 to 176 in fiscal year 1990.

  (See Table A)

- The absence of juvenile probation and youthful offender cases after fiscal year 1989 can be attributed to a Department of Health and Social Services policy decision to discontinue provision of juvenile probation services on a state level and to the repeal of the Youthful Offender Statute, effective July 1, 1978.

Offenders Admitted to Wisconsin Adult Correctional Institutions Calendar Year 1990

HIGHLIGHTS

- Eight out of the 10 males (76.4 percent) and females (84.0 percent) admitted to Wisconsin's correctional facilities for adult offenders during calendar year 1990 were classified as new admissions. This category includes offenders who were not under any type of supervision at the time of sentencing as well as those who had violated the terms of probation and were incarcerated with or without new sentences.

  (See Table 1.)

- Males were most often sentenced for unarmed burglary (18.3 percent), other drug offenses (13.6 percent), and theft (6.5 percent). Other drug offenses (19.9 percent), forgery (16.3 percent), and theft (14.2 percent) were the offenses for which females were most frequently sentenced.

- The average (mean) length of sentence received for all offenders admitted during calendar year 1990 was 71.4 months although over two-thirds (69.8 percent) of the population had sentences of five years or less. Males received an average (mean) sentence of 73.1 months; females 47.7 months. These computations do not include 36 males and 2 females admitted to serve life sentences.

  (See Table 3.)

- Commitments from Milwaukee County accounted for about one-third of the males (35.7 percent) and females (32.9 percent) admitted in 1990. An additional one-fourth (26.1 percent) of the males and one-third (32.5 percent) of the females were committed from Racine, Dane, Kenosha, and Rock Counties.

  (See Table 4.)

- Males sentenced for unarmed burglary, other drug offenses, and theft received average (mean) sentences of 68.8, 46.0, and 51.5 months. The average (mean) length of sentence received by females convicted of other drug offenses, forgery, and theft were 35.0, 53.4, and 38.4 months respectively.

  (See Table 5.)

- Two-fifths (41.2 percent) of the males admitted were classified as assaultive offenders, one-fifth (19.6 percent) as drug offenders, and over one-tenth (13.8 percent) as sex offenders. These three categories are not mutually exclusive. Offenders classified only as property offenders made up two-fifths (40.6 percent) of the admissions.

  (See Table 6.)

- One-half (50.4 percent) of the females admitted during 1990 were classified solely as property offenders. Assaultive offenders made up one-fifth (21.5 percent) of the admissions, one-fourth (28.0 percent) were drug offenders, and less than one-tenth (3.6 percent) were classified as sex offenders. The latter three categories are not mutually exclusive.

  (See Table 6.)

- The average (mean) age for all offenders admitted during 1990 was 28.4 years. Males, with an average (mean) age of 28.3 years, were almost two years younger than females, who had an average (mean) age of 30.0 years.

  (See Table 7.)

- About one-half (52.0 percent) of the males were White while two-fifths (40.3 percent) were Black. Female admissions were fairly evenly divided between those from White (48.0 percent) and Black (45.9 percent) racial and ethnic backgrounds.

  (See Table 8.)

- Two-thirds (65.6 percent) of the males and one-half (49.2 percent) of the females had never been married.

  (See Table 9.)

- Five out of 10 males (52.7 percent) and 6 out of 10 females (58.9 percent), aside from the conviction associated with this admission, had no prior felony record. One-fourth of the males (24.3 percent) and about one-fifth of the females (17.9 percent) had a record of at least two prior felony convictions.

  (See Table 10.)

- Less than three-fifths (55.9 percent) of the males and three-fifths (62.6 percent) of the females had no record of previous incarceration in a correctional institution for adult offenders. One-third (34.0 percent) of the males and three-tenths (28.5 percent) of the females had a record of prior commitment in a Wisconsin Correctional Institution.

  (See Table 11.)

- Juvenile correctional institution experience was noted for one-fourth (25.4 percent) of the males and over one-tenth (12.2 percent) of the females.

  (See Table 12.)

- Less than one-half of the males (45.5 percent) and females (46.7 percent) had not yet earned a high school diploma. GED or HED certificates were held by over one-fourth (28.1 percent) of the males and less than one-fifth (15.4 percent) of the females.

  (See Table 13.)

- Testing indicated that one-third of the males (35.1 percent) and females (35.0 percent) ranked at least at the twelfth grade level.

  (See Table 14.)

- Seven out of 10 males (71.1 percent) and 6 out of 10 females (58.9 percent) admitted during 1990 were found to be without any physical, developmental, or emotional disabilities. Over one-tenth of the males (11.8 percent) and females (12.6 percent) had some type of physical disability.

  (See Table 15.)

- A record of military service was noted for less than one-fifth (15.3 percent) of the males and 2 females (0.8 percent).

  (See Table 16.)

- Upon completion of security assignment procedures about one-third (36.2 percent) of the males and one-fifth (21.5 percent) of the females received an initial custody classification of medium or medium-out. Minimum security ratings were assigned to about three-tenths (28.9 percent) of the males and less than one-half (46.7 percent) of the females.

  (See Table 17.)

- Following completion of the assessment and evaluation process two-fifths (39.7 percent) of the males were placed in maximum security institutions, another third (38.0 percent) in medium security institutions, and one-fifth (20.7 percent) in minimum security facilities. Three-fifths (59.7 percent) of the females were initially placed in a maximum-medium facility while two-fifths (37.0 percent) were placed in minimum security facilities.

  (See Table 18.)

- A serious need for involvement in programs designed to treat those with problems relating to the use of alcohol was noted for about two-fifths (37.8 percent) of the males and one-fifth (19.1 percent) of the females.

  (See Table 19.)

- Three out of 10 males (29.3 percent) and 4 out of 10 females (39.0 percent) were seriously in need of treatment for drug problems.

  (See Table 20.)

- Less than one-fifth (16.0 percent) of the males and one-fourth (26.4 percent) of the females were not in need of treatment for problems relating to the use of alcohol and/or other drugs.

  (See Table 21.)

- Tests indicated that 5 out of 10 males (50.5 percent) and 6 out of 10 females (60.6 percent) were not in need of treatment for problems relating to the use of alcohol and/or other drugs.

  (See Table 22.)

- One-fourth (23.7 percent) of the males and one-fifth (21.5 percent) of the females were in serious need of some type of vocational training.

  (See Table 23.)

- Less than one-fifth (16.8 percent) of the males and one-fifth (20.8 percent) of the females had at least a moderate need for some type of help with problems relating to mental health.

  (See Table 24.)

- Program placement recommendations are made based upon information obtained during the assessment and evaluation process following admission to the institution. Participation in drug and/or alcohol treatment programs, other therapy programs, and educational programs were the placements recommended most frequently for males and females admitted during 1990.

Offenders Released from
Wisconsin Adult Correctional Institutions
Calendar Year 1990

HIGHLIGHTS

- Wisconsin's correctional institutions for adult offenders reported the release of 3,034 offenders, 2,804 males and 194 females, during calendar year 1990. First releases made up almost three-fourths (72.5 percent) of the group, while one-fourth (22.6 percent) were classified as rereleases, and the remainder (4.9 percent) were released after alternative to revocation hearings, or for other reasons.

  (See Table 1.)

- Nine out of 10 (89.2 percent) of the persons released left the institutions for supervision in the community on parole (47.0 percent), mandatory release (41.6 percent), or special action early release (0.6 percent) status. The remainder of the releases were discharged at completion of sentence (4.7 percent), discharged by court order (0.9 percent), released after completion of revocation hearings (0.6 percent), released after alternative to revocation placement (4.3 percent) or died while institutionalized (0.3 percent).

  (See Table 2.)

- Unarmed burglary (22.9 percent), other drug offenses (10.6 percent), and theft (7.9 percent) were the offenses for which males first and rereleased during 1990 had most often been sentenced. Females first and rereleased during 1990 had most often been sentenced for other drug violations (22.5 percent), forgery (14.1 percent), and theft (8.4 percent).

  (See Table 3.)

- The average (mean) sentence for all offenders released during the year was 60.6 months. Males released during 1990 were serving average (mean) sentences of 61.8 months; females, 43.5 months.

  (See Table 4.)

- Milwaukee was the county of commitment for over one-third (36.5 percent) of the males and three-tenths (30.4 percent) of the females released during 1990. Over one-fourth (27.1 percent) of the males and about two-fifths (37.7 percent) of the females had been committed from Dane, Kenosha, Racine and Rock Counties.

  (See Table 5.)

- Males had an average (mean) length of stay of 22.8 months; females, 15.8 months. The average (mean) length of stay since most recent admission for all offenders was 22.4 months.

  (See Table 6.)

- Offenders rereleased during 1990 had spent an average (mean) of 56.0 months in the institution since last new admission. Males spent an average (mean) of 57.2 months; females, 30.3 months.

  (See Table 7.)

- One-half (52.4 percent) of the males and almost one-half (46.1 percent) of the females were from White racial and ethnic backgrounds.

  (See Table 8.)

- One-fourth (26.4 percent) of the males released during 1990 were categorized as assaultive offenders, over one-tenth (14.3 percent) as drug offenders, and slightly less than one-half (45.9 percent) as property offenders.

  (See Table 9.)

- More than two-fifths (43.5 percent) of the females released during 1990 were classified as property offenders, while over one-half were drug (27.7 percent) and assaultive (24.6 percent) offenders.

  (See Table 9.)

- Less than one-tenth of the males (3.2 percent) and females (2.6 percent) were released on outstanding detainers to authorities from other states.

  (See Table 10.)

- One-fourth of the males (24.2 percent) and females (25.2 percent) had either completed some type of academic program while incarcerated or were enrolled in such a program at the time of release.

  (See Table 11.)

- Almost one-fifth (17.7 percent) of the males and about one-tenth (8.9 percent) of the females completed a vocational or apprenticeship program while incarcerated.

  (See Table 12.)

- Over one-tenth of the males (13.9 percent) and females (14.1 percent) released in 1990 completed some type of substance abuse treatment program prior to leaving the institution. One out of 10 males (14.2 percent) and 4 out of 10 females (41.4 percent) were enrolled in a program of this type at the time of release.

  (See Table 13.)

- Less than one-tenth (8.2 percent) of the males as contrasted with one-third (33.5 percent) of the females were enrolled in some type of clinical or other therapy program at the time of release. Completion of a program of this type during institutionalization was noted for about one-tenth of the males (14.8 percent) and females (9.4 percent).

  (See Table 14.)

- First-released males, who were most often sentenced for unarmed burglary, other drug offenses, and theft, spent an average (mean) of 23.9, 14.6 and 18.9 months respectively in the institution.

  (See Table 15.)

- Rereleased males, who were most often sentenced for unarmed burglary, unarmed robbery, and theft, served an average (mean) of 27.7, 9.9, and 9.3 months between the time of return to the rerelease in 1990.

  (See Table 16.)

- Females serving sentences for the most common offenses among those rereleased during 1990 (other drug violations, forgery, theft, and armed robbery) spent an average (mean) of 27.6, 17.2, and 6.9 months in the institution prior to rerelease.

  (See Table 16.)

- First-released males and females with five year sentences spent an average (mean) of 28.2 and 21.7 months respectively in the institution prior to being released.

  (See Table 17.)

- Males and females with five-year sentences who were previously released and returned to the institution following revocation of field supervision spent an average (mean) of 12.6 and 11.3 months in the institution prior to rerelease in 1990.

  (See Table 18.)

- Wisconsin was the intended residence for the majority of the males (75.9 percent) and females (69.6 percent) released during 1990. One-fourth (23.8 percent) of the males and three-tenths (30.4 percent) of the females intended to live elsewhere in the United States.
